THE FUSION OF ART AND TIME: QLOCKTWO ARTIST EDITION × JOCHEN SCHAMBECK

With the QLOCKTWO ARTIST EDITION, the fusion of time, design and art is amplified in an ethereal display. The German artist Jochen Schambeck designed and hand-painted every one of these unique pieces of this limited collection. Using his distinct dabbing technique on metal, Schambeck has developed a method that simultaneously captures the moment and expresses the ephemeral nature of time.

The renowned artist, whose work was previously featured in Dior and Hermès art collections, is known for his strikingly colorful style. Now, for the first time, he has used his extraordinary talent to design the front covers of the iconic QLOCKTWO objects. The artist designed each individual QLOCKTWO surface using time itself, finger stroke by finger stroke, not allowing the paint to dry. He traces time, its flow, and its transience and thus was born the QLOCKTWO ARTIST EDITION.

Three fascinating themes of time emerge from this collection. In "Flowing Time", the waves represent the rhythmic and dynamic flow of time. "Painting Time" paints an atmospheric picture of the intangible moment of time and in "Melting of Time", Jochen Schambeck pays homage to Salvador Dalí's famous work "The Permanence of Memory". In another of his works, "Reflection", Schambeck captured light reflections on a metal front panel in the course of a day in his studio. The resulting interplay of light and shadow shows the passage of time and, like "Painting Time", this work artistically illustrates the transience of time.

QLOCKTWO objects set out to create a new sense of time, to decelerate the perception of time and inspire viewers to consciously experience the moment. Design lovers are invited to linger in front of the timepiece and to be conscious of its surroundings. The collaboration with Jochen Schambeck underscores the philosophy behind the brand through this unique artistic representation. It seduces the viewer into a conscious, mindful examination of time in all its facets.

THE FLOWING, THE MELTING, AND THE PAINTING OF TIME

The essence of QLOCKTWO is to let time pervade your very being. It inspires the viewer to appreciate every moment of time!

The co-founders of QLOCKTWO, Marco Biegert and Andreas Funk, worked on the idea of displaying time as it is spoken, and in 2009 created the first QLOCKTWO, a timepiece that fundamentally changed the way time is displayed. They deviated from the standard and created a new sense of time, from numerals and dials to words on an illuminated surface. The time changes at five-minute intervals and can be displayed in 20 different languages, thus reflecting the owner's personal identity.

QLOCKTWO timepieces are unique and are lovingly handcrafted in Schwäbisch Gmünd, Germany. They are available in different sizes, languages, and various surfaces, including slate and 24-carat gold leaf.
